

This racist college professor thought it would be a great idea to help start a Tennessee Tech chapter for this national hate group, where racist students can meet and talk to each other. He was a white male who had been a member of the group for several years. He was a professor at Tennessee Tech and had been a member of the group for several years. He was a white male who had been a member of the group for several years. He was a professor at Tennessee Tech and had been a member of the group for several years.

